DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2,4-6,21-22,39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aleck 3,592,360.

Aleck discloses a container (10) for holding and dispensing liquid, which comprises a container mouth (24), a container body (12) extending from the container mouth, comprising: a rigid portion dimensionally defining the container (col. 1, ll. 48-60), a liner portion (14) disposed within the container adjacent to the rigid portion, and an adhesive layer (36) disposed between the rigid portion and the liner portion, wherein the adhesive layer removably secures the liner portion to the rigid portion such that the liner portion is capable of being separated from the rigid portion and collapsed within the container (col. 2, ll. 42-75 onto col. 3, ll. 1-17), the liner portion is configured to dispense the liquid through the container mouth while pressurized gas from an external source is introduced between the rigid portion and the liner portion (col. 3, ll. 1-17), a gas inlet (22) extending through the rigid portion to a point between the rigid portion and the liner portion for allowing gas to enter between the rigid portion and the liner portion, wherein the rigid portion comprises at least one barrier layer for reducing permeation of moisture, please note that it is inherent that Aleck's rigid container is capable of reducing permeation of moisture, light and gas.

The device shown by Aleck will perform the method recited in claim 39 during normal operational use of the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aleck 3,592,360.

Aleck has taught all the features of the claimed invention except that the rigid portion, the adhesive portion and the liner portion are formed together.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have formed the rigid portion, the adhesive portion and the liner portion of Aleck together, since it has been held that forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art.

Further, with respect to the claimed limitation that the rigid portion, the adhesive portion and the liner portion are formed together through a blow-molding process.

Applicant should note the process of forming (blow-molding process) the device/package is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 7-20 are allowed.
6. Claims 23-31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 10/5/2006 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
